AHRC project 'Stay home': rethinking the domestic during the Covid-19 pandemic

CALL FOR COMMUNITY RESEARCHERS

- Would you like to find out more about people's experiences of home during the Covid-19 pandemic?
- Do you have experience of conducting oral history / life story interviews?
- Could you recruit and interview 10 people (online) from minoritized ethnic backgrounds, faith communities and/or migrants in London and/or Liverpool?

If so, please apply to join a team of community researchers on the AHRC-funded project 'Stay home': rethinking the domestic in the Covid-19 pandemic. See www.stayhomestories.co.uk for further information about the project.

Each community researcher will be employed for 60 hours and paid @ £17.32 / hour (research assistant rate) or £18.75 / hour (post-doctoral research assistant rate). The work can be completed between March and July 2021, with agreed milestones at the start of the contract.

The work will involve:

- One day's training provided by the Oral History Society, including on conducting online interviews;
- Recruitment, interviews and follow-up with 10 interviewees;
- Providing introductions / liaison where appropriate between networks, organizations and the project team.

How to apply:

Please complete the attached application form and submit it with a CV (1-2 pages) and including two referees who can be contacted after interview to: Dr Annabelle Wilkins (a.wilkins@qmul.ac.uk) by 5pm on 11 March 2021. Interviews will be held in the week beginning 22 March via MS Teams or Zoom. Please contact Prof. Alison Blunt (A.Blunt@qmul.ac.uk) if you have any enquiries about the project.
